Exceptional personal endeavour

— Motivated by my resolute determination to pursue a career in engineering, I successfully overcame childhood illness and the obstacle of hearing loss, which shattered my aspirations of becoming a pilot. Despite encountering personal challenges, including my father's hospitalization due to a stroke the day before the pivotal HKDSE Examination, I persevered and achieved satisfactory results, providing me with the opportunity to pursue engineering studies at my preferred university.

- Following up on the previous news articles, I had ultimately obtained admission to PolyU Mechanical Engineering. [https://www.mingpaocanada.com/VAN/htm/News/20180807/HK-gaa1_r.htm]
